Student Learning

Bellevue HS Students are involved in a variety of learning activities, including building a shed for Bellevue State Park at the current time. The construction skills they are developing in this type of endeavor are priceless, as they will be directly involved in the entire process (roofing, siding, and many other aspects). It is great to learn these skills, along with assisting our community at the same time.

Homecoming Recap

Jacob Waller and Claire Dunne were this year's Homecoming King and Queen, in a fun-filled week that also included a pep rally at the Bellevue Elementary School and Bellevue Middle/High School.

Something Interesting...

I found this information interesting this week, and something to reflect upon...

"The pandemic has accelerated existing trends in remote work, e-commerce, and automation. As a result, more than one in 16 workers-25 percent more than before the pandemic-will need to find a new job by 2030. Students entering kindergarten today will graduate high school in 2034. Will they be ready for what their world will look like when they go to college or enter the workforce?" (EdSurge, September 27, 2021)
